Dear Brother Choate:

I was happy to receive your recent letter outlining the history and plans for the future of Choate's Quarterly. I appreciate deeply the strained situation under which you have published all the previous issues.

Your plan for increasing the number of subscriptions is a sound one. I, too, believe that I can obtain several hundred subscriptions.

Your plan to make me business manager for the Quarterly is acceptable to me. The 50¢ on each of the first several hundred subscriptions or whatever definite number you may state and one dollar on all subsequent subscriptions is agreeable with me.

Your plan to use the Williams Printing Company of Nashville would be even more acceptable due to my proximity to Nashville and the possibility that I may move into Nashville in the future.

I would be willing to enter into an immediate campaign to get subscribers upon receiving your go ahead and outline of my specific duties. I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Faternally yours,

John Allen Chalk
